An Organic garden.

We practice Organic methods of gardening allowing only organic fertilizers and pest control.

- 1. Each gardener is responsible for the maintenance and upkeep of their garden plot. Watering, weeding, harvesting and any other garden related maintenance are all the responsibility of the gardener. Please take out any trash and plant containers to recycle them on your own. Gardeners may arrange for other gardeners to water their plots.
- 2. Tools of all types are available for use and are marked with green tape. They will be found at the entrance to the garden, in the box near the first raised bed or in the garden shed (lock combination WORME).
- 3. Water! We now are in our 3rd season with our well. Please ask how to turn on the pump. And please turn off the pump if you are the last person in the garden. There is a laminated photo of the pump in the “on” and the “off” positions as a reference.
- 4. Please be sure that the garden gates are both closed and the garden shed is locked when you are the last gardener at the garden. We have deer and other creatures who would love to visit all our plots and eat our tender greens.
- 5. Children are welcome in the garden. But they must be accompanied by an adult and supervised at all times.
- 6. We love our dogs. But please keep them out of the fenced portion of the garden, the asparagus bed and away from the blueberries and raspberries.
- 7. Garden Plots Assignment Plots are assigned in the Spring, and those who gardened in the previous year will be given preference for returning to their plot each season. There are private plots rented by individuals and community plots that are planted, cultivated and harvested for food banks in the area. Please, harvest only from your own plot and only by permission from other gardeners’ plots.
- 8. Care of your plot at the end of the season. Please remove all plants and refuse from your plot by November 1st and let us know if you intend to return the next season.
- 9. Volunteer work in the Community Garden Over the past 9 seasons our Community garden has provided between 1000-1500 pounds of fresh, organic produce to our town food bank and to other food banks and soup kitchens in the area. Our garden coordinators (all volunteers) have been able to do this because other volunteers and our plot renters have given of their time. We ask that each plot renter give 2 hours/ month to the community garden to help with planting, weeding, mulching, harvesting.
